Ruhuna Journal of Science

The Ruhuna Journal of Science (RJS) is an open access, peer-reviewed international research journal published by Faculty of Science, University of Ruhuna, Sri Lanka since 2006. RJS provides a platform for the researchers to impart and share knowledge in the form of high quality empirical and theoretical research papers in any scientific discipline.

The Journal has been previously published in printed and online versions under ISSN 1800 279X, but since Volume 4, it publishes only online version.

From volume 6, it will be published semi-annually (April and September).

RJS invites papers for Vol. 6 which is scheduled to be published in April, 2015.

Manuscript submission is only by online. All authors should be registered in the online journal system at <http://rjs.ruh.ac.lk/>. Manuscripts can then be uploaded to the system and the status can be regularly monitored.

Please visit the journal website for guidelines for preparation of the manuscript for initial submission (manuscripts written as full-scripts are invited, not written as extended abstracts). All papers will be peer-reviewed (double-blind), and the decision on its acceptance will be made by the editors based on the reviewers' reports. Please contact the editors at editor\_RJS@sci.ruh.ac.lk for any clarifications.
